Nebraska Wesleyan University

COMM 280 Communication in Contemporary Society

Catalog

2013-2014

Course Description

The capstone course in communication, this seminar will address major communication theories and research methods and their application to a variety of contexts, settings, and contemporary issues as well as discussions of communication careers and graduate study. The prerequisites are Research Methods and Senior standing.

Prerequisite: Senior Standing and declared Communication major

Course Hours

4 hours

Departments

1. Communication Studies