ENG 240 Women Writing Across Cultures

Catalog

2012-2013

Course Description

Fiction and essays by women from various cultures (including the U.S., Europe, Africa, Latin America, and the Caribbean) will be the focus of this course. The multicultural, international reading list will provide students insight into the lives and experiences of women most likely very different from themselves; thus they can appreciate and learn from the differences and make connections across cultures.

Prerequisite(s): ENG 001 English Language and Writing and ENG 101 Masterpieces of Literature.
