Nebraska Wesleyan University

THTRE 286 History of Period Style

Catalog

2013-2014

Course Description

History of Period Style is a class for theatre performers, directors, designers and generalists, who wish to have a basis of knowledge about the major historical periods in Western Civilization that are the setting for the majority of plays in the western canon. This course will be an overview of the most important innovations in architecture, art, costume, furniture and decorative arts, and music for each period, as they influence theatrical production.

Prerequisite(s): Junior standing or permission of the instructor.

Course Hours

3 hours

Departments

1. Theatre