Nebraska Wesleyan University

THTRE 3460 Period Acting Styles

Catalog

2015-2016

Course Description

Participants in Period Acting Styles will prepare and present a full-length play to be rehearsed during the semester and presented as part of the NWU University Theatre season. Starting with a series of vocal and physical exercises, students will explore the script. Students will conduct research on the time period, cultural context and language . Students will also do an in-depth character analysis and collaborate on all aspects of the production process. Period Acting Styles may be repeated for credit.
Prerequisite(s): Junior standing or permission of the instructor.

Course Hours

1-3 hours

Departments

1. Theatre