

BIO 4190 Histology

4 hours

Departments/Programs:

Biology

A study of the microscopic anatomy and functions of the mammalian tissues and organs with modern concepts of histophysiology and histogenesis.

Three lectures per week.

One 3-hour lab per week.

Prerequisite(s): BIO-1400, BIO 2200 Genetics and Cell Biology and BIO 2300 Ecology and Evolution.

(Normally offered each spring semester.)