Nebraska Wesleyan University

SOC 3210 Thinking SocioLogically: Environment

Catalog

2025-2026

Course Description

This course explores environmental issues through a sociological lens, emphasizing environmental justice and institutional responses. Students will analyze case studies, lead discussions, and develop an environmental ethic that connects personal values to social and environmental change.

Prerequisite(s): SOC 1110 Introduction to Sociology

Course Hours

2 hours

Departments

1. Sociology