

BIO 264 Animal Behavior

3 hours

Majors, Minors & Degrees:

Majors

Biology (B.A.)

Biology (B.S.)

Biopsychology (B.S.)

Departments/Programs:

Biology

The study of animal behavior from both the ethological and behavioral ecological perspectives. Broad topic areas include behavioral mechanisms, genetics of behavior, behavioral evolution, and behavioral adaptation.

Concurrent enrollment in BIO-265 is encouraged.

Three lectures per week.

Prerequisite(s): BIO-060 and a minimum of sophomore standing.