PSYCH 217 Psychological Testing

3 hours

Majors, Minors & Degrees:

Majors
Industrial/Organizational Psychology (B.S.)
Psychology (B.A., B.S.)

Minors
Psychology

Departments/Programs:

Psychology

An introduction to the theory, construction, administration, and interpretation of standardized psychological tests. Tests considered include IQ assessments, general interest surveys, personality inventories, and projective techniques. General methodological and statistical issues in testing and measurement are also covered.

Prerequisite(s): PSYCH-002.

Recommended: PSYCH-110.

(Normally offered each fall semester.)