Nebraska Wesleyan University

COMM 280 Communication and Contemporary Society

Catalog

2012-2013

Course Description

The capstone course in communication, this seminar will include a review of major communication theories and research methods and their application to a variety of contexts, settings, and contemporary issues as well as discussions of communication careers and graduate study.

Prerequisite(s): Senior standing and a major in communication or permission of the department chair.

Course Hours

3 hours

Departments

1. Communication Studies