Nebraska Wesleyan University

HIST 110 Topics in Latin American History

Catalog

2013-2014

Course Description

An examination of the Latin American experience with different topics at each offering. Such topics will include: contact period, transnationalism, indigenismo, the colonial era, agrarian movements, social revolutions, neocolonialism, interamerican relations, narcoterrorism and trafficking, for example. This course will be offered on a regular basis, with the intention that students would retake the course as the topics shift (as indicated by section number).

Course Hours

2 hours

Departments

1. History