Nebraska Wesleyan University

POLSC 2200 Minority Politics

Catalog

2014-2015

Course Description

An examination of the political role of minorities in U.S. society. The course will focus on the historical evolution of minority rights with emphasis on current debates and controversies. It will also apply political science theories to the relationship between majority and minority communities in the U.S.

Course Hours

3 hours

Departments

1. Political Science