Nebraska Wesleyan University

COMM 3400 Communication and Gender

Catalog

2014-2015

Course Description

This course offers an exploration of theories of the creation and perpetuation of gender and gender roles through communication. In turn, students will consider the question of the impact of gender on communication. Students will examine gender in a variety of contexts including familes, schools, and media.

Course Hours

4 hours

Departments

1. Communication Studies