Nebraska Wesleyan University

ANTHR 2530 Latin American Cultures

Catalog

2016-2017

Course Description

This course examines Latin American cultures from an anthropological perspective. It covers stratification and its effects on indigenous populations and contemporary cultures, and the effects of culture change on them.
(Normally offered alternate years.)

Course Hours

4 hours

Departments

1. Sociology and Anthropology