Nebraska Wesleyan University

ENG 2600 Introduction to Ancient Rhetoric

Catalog

2016-2017

Course Description

Students will study the early history of rhetoric, drawing upon the Greek and Roman traditions and those of at least one additional culture. Students will focus on the major tenets of these rhetorical traditions, enabling them to analyze a variety of texts from multiple cultural perspectives.
Prerequisite(s): Sophomore standing or instructor permission.
(Normally offered alternate spring semesters.)

Course Hours

4 hours

Departments

1. English