Nebraska Wesleyan University

HIST 2110 Introduction to Latin America

Catalog

2016-2017

Course Description

An examination of the Latin American experience with different topics at each offering. Such topics will include: contact period, transnationalism, indigenismo, the colonial era, agrarian movements, social revolutions, neocolonialism, interamerican relations, narcoterrorism and trafficking, for example. This course will be offered on a regular basis, and students could retake the course as the topics shift.

Course Hours

2 hours

Departments

1. History