Nebraska Wesleyan University

ART 3200 Intermediate Time-Based Media and Design

Catalog

2017-2018

Course Description

This course builds on the skills introduced in ART 1200 and ART 2200 as well as ART 1050. Students will hone their video skills and design sensibility through self-designed projects with the supervision of the professor. Engagement with the surrounding community is an essential part of the course that connects student learning to the wider world. Various levels (1-4) of this studio art medium may meet together. The course requirements of each level are different.
Prerequisite(s): ART 1200 Introduction to Graphic and Web Design and ART 2200 Introduction to Video and Animation.
