Nebraska Wesleyan University

BIO 3530 Principles of Marine Biology and Oceanography

Catalog

2017-2018

Course Description

Course focusing on basic concepts in marine biology. Topics discussed in this course include basic oceanography, plankton ecology, nekton biology, meiofauna, marine communities, and the impact of humans on marine systems. Two lectures per week.
Prerequisite(s): BIO 1400FYW Introduction to Biological Inquiry or permission of the instructor.
(Normally offered in the spring of even-numbered years.)

Course Hours

2 hours

Departments

1. Biology