Nebraska Wesleyan University

PSYCH 3200 Psychological Testing

Catalog

2017-2018

Course Description

An introduction to the theory, construction, administration, and interpretation of standardized psychological tests. Tests considered include IQ assessments, general interest surveys, personality inventories, and projective techniques. General methodological and statistical issues in testing and measurement are also covered.
Prerequisite(s): PSYCH 1010/PSYCH 1010FYW Introduction to Psychological Science.
Recommended: PSYCH 2100 Psychological Statistics.

Course Hours

4 hours

Departments

1. Psychology