Nebraska Wesleyan University

Catalog 2017-2018

SOC 1110 Introduction to Sociology

4 hours

Majors, Minors & Degrees:

Majors

Business-Sociology (B.S.)
Criminal Justice in Society (B.S.)
History-Social Science Education (B.A., B.S.)
Nursing (Pre-Licensure) (B.S.N.)
Social Work (B.A.)
Social Work (B.S.)
Sociology-Anthropology (B.A., B.S.)

Minors

American Minority Studies Criminal Justice Family Studies Legal Studies Peace and Justice Studies Sociology-Anthropology

Departments/Programs:

Sociology and Anthropology

This course is an introduction to using the sociological perspective as a method of social inquiry. Students explore such basic concepts as culture, socialization, social structure, social interaction, and social change. They study and apply the theories and research methodologies used to investigate human social interaction. These concepts are applied to social topics such as race, class, gender, family, crime, population, environment, and others. (Normally offered each semester.)