

ANTHR 2530 Latin American Cultures

4 hours

Departments/Programs:

Sociology and Anthropology

This course examines Latin American cultures from an anthropological perspective. It covers stratification and its effects on indigenous populations and contemporary cultures, and the effects of culture change on them.

(Normally offered alternate years.)