

Course:

EDUC 5110 Positive Education: Positive Psychology for Teachers and Students

3 hours

Majors (Grad)

Curriculum and Instruction (M.Ed.)

Departments/Programs:

Education (Graduate)

This course draws upon cognitive-behavioral theories and social problem-solving skills. Participants will examine ways to integrate skills of resilience, optimism, and other components into the culture of their classroom. Emphasis will be placed on first developing skills of personal resiliency before examining how to build a classroom characterized by these habits and practices.

Prerequisite(s): Admission to the M.Ed program.