

Course:

EDUC 3390 Methods for Teaching Reading and Writing in 7-12

3 hours

Majors, Minors & Degrees:

Majors

English and Writing (B.A.)

Language Arts Education (B.A., B.S.)

Certification Endorsements

Secondary Education Endorsement

Departments/Programs:

Education (Undergraduate)

A course focusing on the methodology, processes, and content of reading and writing at the secondary school level. Particular attention is given to strategies effective in teaching developmental reading and writing, content area reading and writing, and basic skills in diagnosis and remediation. Laboratory experiences are provided. No P/F.

Prerequisite(s): Acceptance into the Teacher Education Program or permission of the department chair.

(Normally offered each fall semester.)