

Course:

PSYCH 2210 Basic Helping Skills

2 hours

Departments/Programs:

Psychology

A practical introduction to helping skills in the field of psychology that are applicable to a variety of professions (e.g., management, human resources, therapy, healthcare, coaching, etc.). Emphasis on skills (e.g., empathy, reflective listening, and effective use of questions) that are developed through hands-on practice and real-life application. Prerequisite: PSYCH-1010FYW/1010