EDUC 5030 Applying Principles of Effective Teaching: Guided Inquiry in Action

Catalog

2024-2025

Course Description

This semester-length course provides applied practice for teachers in the setting of their own classroom, similar to an internship or practicum experience but for professional practitioners. Teachers will take the core principles for guided inquiry into their honors course, collect student work, be observed by project staff, and use that evidence and feedback to adjust instructional practice.
