Gender and Sexuality Studies

This course provides an overview of key contemporary theories, concepts, issues, and debates in Gender Studies. Students will glean an overview of the field of Gender Studies and its emergence from Women's Studies and advocacy for women's rights. Students will become familiar with key concepts from current gender scholarship. Students will develop and complete an applied gender-studies project with real-world applications that they can then share with other students. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing.

(Normally offered each spring semester.)
