

Course:

POLSC 2300 Introduction to Political Science

2 hours

Departments/Programs:

Political Science

This class provides students who are interested in the political science major or minor an in-depth examination of the major discussions, methods, and themes that form the core of political science education.