THTRE 1320 Studio for Actors & Directors I

Catalog

2026-2027

Course Description

THTRE 1320 is a weekly studio class intended for all Acting and Directing BFAs, aimed at developing and refining a wide range of relevant skills as a cohort of creatives. Students will examine topics and techniques not always covered or rarely touched on in other classes, in addition to discussing and practicing vocational and professional methods for industry readiness, with the aid of guest artist instructors occasionally. Students will collaborate on performance and directing projects, along with preparing and presenting individual work over the course of the semester.
